

Adding and Ending a Worker Relationship

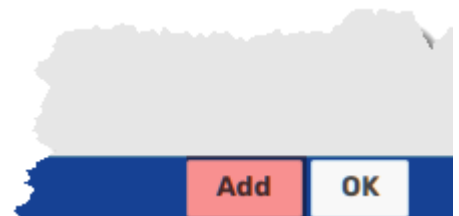

Adding a Worker Relationship

Adding a worker relationship to the records that you are working with will allow you to quickly access the records through Allocations. It also allows your manager to see workers workload.

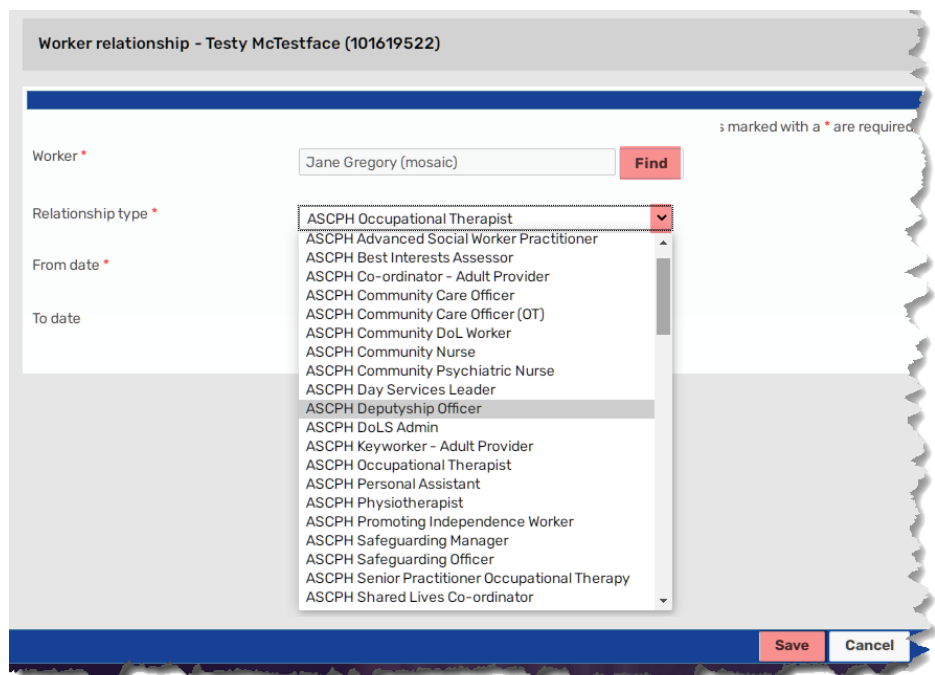

1. Find the person's record that you want to add your worker relationship to.
2. Point to Person details and click Worker relationships.

3. Click Add at the bottom right of the Worker relationship screen.

4. Click Find next to Worker and search for the worker to be added to the record.
5. From the Relationship type pick list choose the relationship (note: all adult worker roles will start with ASCPH)
6. Check the start date, this can be changed if necessary.
7. Click Save.
8. Click OK to return to the Person summary screen.

Ending a Worker Relationship

When you are no longer involved with the person's case your Worker Relationship needs to be ended on that person's record to reflect the change.

1. Find the person's record that you want to end your worker relationship on.
2. Point to Person details and click Worker relationships.
